The Holiday Season

It is a well established custom for the people of the Copper Country to remit large sums at this season to the old homes in Europe. This movement of money grows with leaps and bounds as the years pass. Our old customers who have always bought their drafts and money orders at this bank know the advantage of it, but some who do not know the bank's methods need enlightenment.

But what's the use of talking!

The only way to judge of the way of our ability to serve is to try us. We promise quick service, absolute safety, and certain delivery. Our whole capital and credit stands behind every transaction. The young man at the window is very obliging.

We make cable and telegraph transfers also.

Come in and try us.

Faithfully yours,

CORNELL WANTS REFORM.

Faculty Advocates Removing Danger From Football Game.

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 16.—The Cornell University faculty, at an executive session recently adopted a resolution advocating strong reform in the rules governing football, for the guidance of Professor L. M. Dennis, Cornell's representative on the rules committee. The resolution says, among other things:

"With a view to securing greater safety of life and limb and higher standards of honor and fair play, it is the insistent opinion of this faculty that the continuance of football as a game for undergraduates depends upon an effective revision and enforcement of the rules regulating the game. This opinion applies further to the selection of officials and to the conduct of players and coaches."

MINERS TO CARRY CANNED AIR.

Clarence Hall, expert in charge of the explosive section of the United States Geological Survey in Pittsburgh, has just perfected an emergency breathing apparatus which promises to be of great use to miners in the event of an explosion or the sudden closing up of a section of a mine by a fall of coal, thus shutting off the oxygen necessary to life. Mr. Hall's pocket air tank is so constructed that the miner can carry it in his pocket and when necessity calls adjust it to his face, release a stopcock, thereby starting the generation of sufficient oxygen to keep him alive for thirty minutes. The device however is not designed to be used by rescuers.

The invention consists of a rubber hose and mouth piece so made as to fit closely over the lower part of the face; a small tank three by three inches; and a lower tank five by three inches to contain sodium peroxide. A standard one-eighth-inch brass cock with ends cut off connects the two tanks and when the emergency arises a brass needle valve is released allowing the water to drop into the sodium peroxide tank. The action of the water on the sodium peroxide produces oxygen which rises to the mouth and nose of the miner through a sheet iron tube six inches by one inch extending from the base of the rubber nose and mouth piece through the water tank and with the lower opening at the top of the sodium peroxide tank. The dimensions of the different parts of the apparatus are such that with a full tank of water and a full tank of sodium peroxide, the needle valve being released, there will be generated two and two-tenths cubic feet of oxygen.—Technical World Magazine.

CALLS NEGOTIATIONS FOR FINNISH MINING CO. OFF

President Daniell Notifies Syndicate Seeking Control to This Effect

EIGHTY NEW CLAIMS SOUGHT

John Daniell, president of the Finnish-American Mining company, has notified the local directors of the company that all negotiations on the part of an English syndicate to secure control of the property have been called off, this action being taken by the president.

The communication further states that an application has been made to the government of Finland for an additional tract of land for mining purposes, covering 80 claims. It is likely that this will be granted, when the company's engineers will stake it out and do the necessary assessment work as demanded by the Finnish officials. These additional claims adjoin the Orjarvi mine, owned by the company.

Mr. Daniell states that a splendid mill site is available, and there is plenty of timber in sight. A convenient site for the storage of fuel has also been provided for. These additional claims will also provide an outlet for the proposed railroad, to be utilized in handling the products of the mine.

During his trip to Europe, Mr. Daniell visited Germany, where he made arrangements for the purchase of machinery to be used in the company's mill. He ascertained that by the German mill process the ores can be easily treated. The ores contain copper, zinc, lead and traces of gold.

Showing the interest the people of Finland have in the property the home office has been notified that a total of 128,000 shares is held in the Russian Province. Fifty thousand shares of this amount have been placed within the past few days.

LAURIUM DOKAYS WILL ADMIT ANOTHER CLASS

Another ceremonial session for the members of Kappa temple, Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, will probably be held during the last week of February. Arrangements are now being made for this session, and the matter will be decided by the officers at a meeting in the near future. According to the present plans, the big gathering will take place in one of the Portage Lake towns.

Several of the candidates for admission on the night the charter of the new temple was closed were unable to attend, and it is for their benefit that the next session is being arranged. It is estimated that at least ten of the Laurium candidates and a similar number from the Portage Lake towns are waiting for admission. These with a large class of new candidates will provide plenty of work for the degree team of the order.

As the new temple has jurisdiction over the entire upper peninsula, it is not planned to confine the big sessions to one town. Therefore the next gathering will likely take place in either Hancock or Houghton.

CALUMET & CORBIN.

Encouraging Report From Supt. Hosking—Monthly Meeting Today.

Capt. W. C. Hosking, superintendent of the C. & C. mining company, writing to the home office, states that the vein struck on the 200-foot or bottom level of the new shaft is opening up good. The west drift is in 75 feet, all in ore, of good concentrating and shipping values, and is 12 feet in width. The eastern drift is in a similar distance, but the showing is much better in the western drift. The big vein struck east of the fault on the 200-foot level is opening up well, the drift on this ore body having progressed 55 feet since the date of last report. There are two veins paralleling each other, which are being developed east of the fault on the 200-foot level, with encouraging results.

The C. & C. mining company has secured water rights from the Clancy creek, where an excellent site for a

Get the Real Flavor from your Coffee

The fact that sometimes your coffee is better than others, shows that something is wrong with the process of making and that some flavor-destroying element is present in greater or smaller quantities.

Manning-Bowman

"Meteor" Coffee Percolator

gives you the Real Flavor from your coffee. The better principle is entirely eliminated, making the coffee always the same—always delicious, clear and fragrant. The hot water is forced up through the central tube by the automatic circulating process and filtering through the grounds extracts all the good of the coffee, leaving the tannic acid and bitter properties in the grounds above the liquid. Use one-third less coffee than by other methods, for there is no waste.
